VISITING TEACHERS

Instruction Will Be Given In All Branches Work

1011 long session students of W. T. completed their year's work today and were ushered out with degrees, or certificates, or the good wishes of the institution.

They had scarcely left the campus when last minute preparations for the opening of summer school on June 4 were begun. It is expected that the 12 weeks summer session will be the largest in the history of the institution. The housing committee reports that houses, apartments, and rooms for young men and women are much in demand and many students are already in Canyon ready to go to work.

Among the special features of this year's summer school, according to the administrative staff, will be courses dealing with the history of Texas and the Southwest in demand by students and teachers who wish to learn to appreciate the Texas Centennial; a three weeks special course for teachers of home economics, designed to acquaint them with the latest methods for teaching home economics units; curriculum revision offered by the Department of

Joe Boy Hill In Appreciative Talk Thursday Night

A large crowd of friends gathered at the administration building auditorium Thursday night to greet Joe Hill in his first public appearance since his return from Little America as a member of the Byrd expedition. A most interesting and instructive talk was made by the young explorer, who told of his varied experiences on the two years' trip.

Nika, a Malenute dog, gift of Admira Byrd, was brought to the stage by young Hill. The dog was one of the 140 huskies taken on the trip. The dog teams played a large part in the exploration parties which spent several months in scientific investigations in Little America.

Joe Boy was in charge of one of the tractors, and told of the experiences of running the machines in the intense cold. Fan belts wore out very rapidly, so that the tractor parties soon designated distance as so many fan belts.

A collection of clothing worn on the trip was displayed, and the mode of dress described.

During the long winter darkness, all members of the crew were employed for eight hours daily, working on various phases of preparation for the coming of the sun when exploration would become possible. The remainder of the time was spent in study, reading, and games. The broadcast programs put on by the crew always created much excitement.

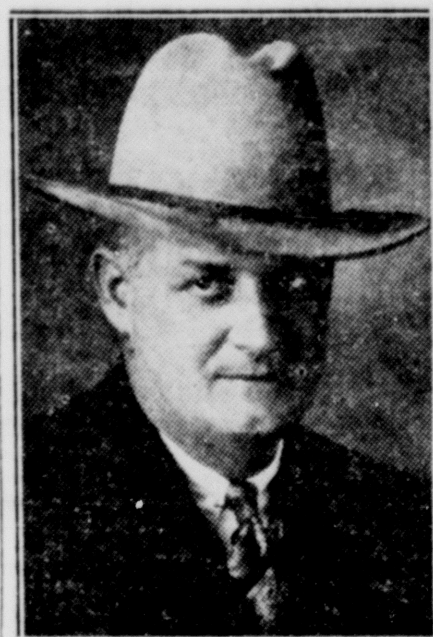

The hazards of travel over the snow were described, owing to the deep crevices which were sometimes wide enough to almost swallow a tractor. The men were never allowed to wander out alone owing to the dangers of these crevices.

Ski-ing was one of the main sports for the men.

The dog teams were not used when the temperature was more than 40 degrees below zero, as their lungs would freeze.

Joe has a large number of engagements over the Panhandle during the coming month to speak upon his experiences.

Soft Ball League Formed In City

Eight Clubs Figure on Entering Teams in League

TO START JUNE 10

Two Games To Be Played Each Night of Schedule

Soft ball fans met at Burton Gym Tuesday night for preliminary arrangements for a season's play. Another meeting will be held next Tuesday evening at 6:30 to complete arrangements and the schedule to be carried out during the season. Eight teams were tentatively entered Tuesday night, but in checking up the list of eligible players yesterday, it was believed that some of the teams entered would be short of men.

Among the definite regulations adopted were the following:

All games will start at 6:45 p. m., and run for seven innings.

The league will have strictly a twilight schedule this year, as the lights on Buffalo field will not be used during the season.

The managers of each team must submit a list of 15 players and must confine their players to this list.

Each team will buy its own equipment, and furnish half the balls used in each game.

Regulation soft ball rules will be followed during the season, and umpires must be familiar with these rules.

All citizens are invited to witness the games, but no cars will be allowed within the stadium.

The 12-inch soft ball will be used in all games.

Two playing fields will be used, so that two games may be going during the evening. A call for workers at 6:30 this evening is made to fix up a field at the north end of the stadium.

Local Committee Is Named for 3 Parks

WILL MEET SUNDAY

Concession Contracts to Be Made For Each Park

Governor Allred will veto the bill passed by the last session of the legislature at the request of Panhandle citizens, and Tuesday agreed upon a local advisory committee, which will direct the affairs of the Palo Duro State Park, the Palisades and the Hereford State Park. The committee appointed is composed of Clyde W. Warwick, of Canyon, chairman; T. E. Johnson of Amarillo; Judge C. W. Humble of Hereford.

The appointment of this advisory committee followed a number of conferences among Panhandle citizens, members of the National Park Service, together with a conference with Governor Allred by local citizens two weeks ago. At that time the Governor expressed a willingness to sign the bill creating a separate board for the Palo Duro, if this was the will of local citizens, but believed that it was the wrong thing to do. A further study was directed by the Governor of the entire park program of Texas.

The bill for the separate park board was introduced in the legislature by Senator Clint C. Small at the request of a number of citizens who believed that the interest of the Palo Duro was being

RANDALL ROLLS UP LARGEST OF PLAINS SECTION

Compliance Papers For 1935 Are Nearly Finished

APPROVAL OF AAA

Elections Held in Nine Districts of Randall County

Randall county farmers and land owners approved a continuation of the wheat allotment program by a vote of 809 to 31. A special election was held Saturday for the purpose of ascertaining the wishes of the farmers on the question. Randall cast the second largest number of votes of Panhandle counties, and rolled up a majority of 26 to 1 favorably to the present governmental policy.

There is a total of 825 eligible signers in Randall county, 770 of whom voted Saturday. Of the 45 who did not vote here Saturday, fully 25 cast a vote in another county. It is likely that Randall county cast a larger percentage of votes than any county in this section. With a total of 96% being in favor of a continuation of the wheat allotment, those who handled the election believe that fully 99% of the actual farmers cast their vote in favor of the present program.

A complete report of the vote in the nine districts of the county is printed on this page.

While the vote was being taken last week, compliance papers for 1935 were signed by the wheat farmers. County Agent W. H. Upchurch and R. B. Gist, chairman of the Allotment Committee, state that less than 50 farmers have not completed their papers, but will do so immediately.

Commencement for W. T. Ended With Program This a. m.

Dr. James F. Zimmerman, president of the University of New Mexico, delivered the Commencement address of W. T. this morning, and President J. A. Hill granted degrees to 91 seniors who had completed their work in W. T.

Commencement festivities started Saturday when class day was observed in the morning, and President and Mrs. Hill held the annual reception for the graduating class at night.

Rev. J. O. Haynes preached the baccalaureate sermon Sunday morning to a large congregation. Truth is the highest and most sought after quality, according to the speaker. He reviewed the slow, laborious development of truth by giving many lucid illustrations. Dr. Haynes pointed out that superstition and many "isms" had retarded the development of the element which has done most to enlighten the people of the world. That religion and science are not conflicting is his opinion. "The truth about anything cannot cause conflict," said Dr. Haynes. Although science has disclosed much of God's plan for the world, there is much mystery about it all yet. Leaving the thought that unselfish service is the result of a knowledge of truth, Dr. Haynes closed his sermon.

Large and appreciative audiences heard the commencement week musical programs, the first given by the Buffalo Band on Monday night, followed by the joint program of the women's and men's choruses Tuesday night, joined by the orchestra in the concluding number.

High school commencement services started Sunday night with the sermon at the Methodist Church, preached by Rev. Chas. L. Dickey. The graduation exercises were held last night at the auditorium of the education building.

The following degrees were awarded this morning:

Those receiving Bachelor of Arts degrees are: Josie Mae Baird, Lucy Blair, Kathleen Rosella Bragg, Gerald Alton Brown, Lola

The veto message of President Roosevelt of the bonus bill last week took a great deal more courage than most people appreciate. Every president who has had to face this issue has been forced by the strength of national circumstances to veto the immediate payment of the bonus. Never before has such pressure been brought upon a president to sign the bill as was put on President Roosevelt. If he had been a mere politician, he would have signed it rather than face the ridicule of the group who are seeking his defeat in 1936. Those who are bitterly disappointed in the veto should take into consideration the fact that President Roosevelt must look at every bill before him as a national question rather than one favorable to any particular group.

We doubt whether any one knows much about money. But those who observe have found out a few things which happen when printed money is thrown out to a nation in too large quantities. Prices go up, and money goes down, so that the object of additional money is defeated. We are told that inflation has already taken place, and that the nation can stand more inflation. Maybe so, and maybe not. It is doubtful if anyone can tell just how much inflation this nation can stand at this time without breaking down the entire structure. The President evidently believes in the safest policy to have a little too less money in circulation and have it worth something, than to have a lot in circulation, with its value much less.

We are living in a day of "government by telegram." Any proposition which confronts a legislature or the congress brings forth a flood of telegrams. Fully 90% of those who send telegrams do not know the merits of the bill which is under discussion. While your legislators appreciate advice upon any question, when a flood of messages come, they know good and well that some individual or group is promoting these messages, either in favor of or against the bill, and therefore the influence of the messages is questioned and lost upon the one who receives them. Don't wire about legislation just because some one asks you to.

No doubt the State Board of Education will fight back against the report of a legislative investigation that this board has invested much money in worthless bonds. The board will evidently attempt to prove that the law compelled it to make such purchases. Since the creation, the Board of Education has assumed the attitude that it was always right and everyone else was wrong. The board is created of members taken from every field but that of education. If its busness judgment has proven no more sound than many of its criticisms of educational institutions. It will hardly justify a continued existence.

Many graduates are scratching their heads and wondering whether their training will land them a job. A few years ago, a diploma or college degree was a sure passport to a steady job. Unfortunately jobs are more scarce today, and industry and business are unable to absorb graduates as rapidly as they receive their degrees. Conditions will improve in a few years. No young person will ever feel sorry that they took the time and invested the necessary money to complete their school work. The only regret any will have is that they have not worked harder while in school.

Some one has proposed making a new state out of 23 counties in Oklahoma and the 46 counties of the Panhandle. Time was that this would have created much favorable comment. It will hardly cause a ripple on public thought at this time. While Texas is a big state, it is only half as large as it was a few years ago as a result of improved transportation. While it has many, many, complex problems, a smaller state would have almost as many, including the problem of finances. The depression has taught people to look before they leap.

The last session of the legislature passed the dental bill prohibiting dentists from carrying more than a professional card in the newspapers. Other sorts of advertising is forbidden. Doctors will attempt to get the same sort of bill through the next session. Guess this would be ok if the law provided that each and every professional man be compelled to carry a professional card so that the people might know who they were.

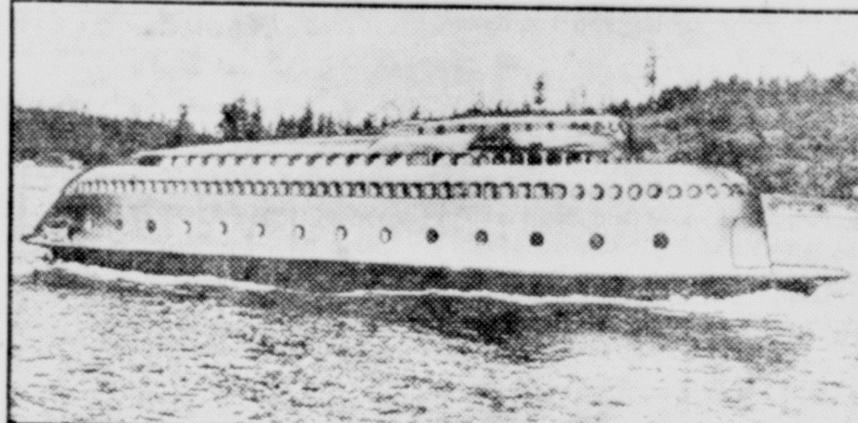

You will hear plenty about prohibition up to August 24th. The anti-prohibitionists organized at Austin Saturday. They will put speakers in every county telling the folks how they may drink themselves back into prosperity. The dries met in Dallas Friday and will put 6,000 workers over the state. Never before has the liquor issue been so thoroughly discussed.

Touched by the loyalty of their subjects, King George V and Queen Mary are pictured above, on the balcony of Buckingham Palace, acknowledging the cheers of Britons thronging the streets below. Between them is Princess Elizabeth, daughter of the Duke and Duchess of York. Shortly before, at St. Paul's cathedral, the royal couple had attended thanksgiving services, commemorating the Silver Jubilee of the king's reign.

World's First Streamlined Ferry

The streamline trend has evidently reached the boat industry. In July, the ferryboat pictured above, said to be the world's first streamlined vessel, will be placed in operation on Puget Sound, Wash. It can accommodate 2000 passengers and 110 automobiles, on its route between Seattle and Bremerton, Wash.

The farmers have answered the President most enthusiastically in favor of continuing AAA. The response would have been unanimous had it not been for the few who listened to the demagogues who are attempting to wreck the Roosevelt administration. These are prolific days for the agitator who has nothing to offer but a lot of wild, unworkable ideas.

The saloon boys proclaim loud and long that prohibition has been a failure, therefore, ask that the question be turned over to them for solution. If those who lived in saloon days will kindly remember the drunkards who sprawled on the streets of every saloon town, they will hesitate to vote to make a bad situation worse by allowing the return of legalized liquor.

Never before has organized minorities attempted so brazenly to rule this nation. A general strike is threatened if Congress does not hop when the Federation of Labor whistles. Yet organized labor is a small part of the laborers of this nation.

Play Night To Be Started Again at W. T. on June 7th

Play night at West Texas State Teachers College is to be revived Friday night, June 7.

Such activities as playground ball, lawn tennis, volleyball, croquet, horse shoe pitching, etc. will be indulged in by all the people of the community. As last year, a soft ball team from Amarillo will be brought down to contest the local team of soft ball players.

The croquet courts have been walled in with rock and they have been rolled until they are as smooth as concrete.

Playground ball teams will be organized immediately after the opening of the summer session of West Texas State Teachers College. These teams will play a round robin tournament to decide the best team.

There will also be organized two soft ball teams composed of local business men. These teams will play a series of games to decide the champion team.

The swimming pool will be in fine shape, and regular classes will be held all during the summer session of school. There will be a special life saving class organized and all good swimmers are urged to join.

Plans are under way to have a bigger and better rodeo this year than was held last year. This will be a great event. Announcements will appear in the paper just as soon as arrangements have been completed.

Even a donkey baseball game is being planned for the summer.

Everyone is urged to attend these play nights for they bring the people of the community closer together.

MAVERICK CLUB

NUMBER TWO
Canyon, Texas
By Pat Noser

The Amarillo Maverick Club came down to Canyon some 250 strong Sunday and really taught the Canyon Maverick Club No. 2 how to sing, "Here We Are, Here We Are," and "Ham and Eggs."

A short religious service was held during which several religious songs were sung. This service was ended with all the Mavericks repeating the Lord's Prayer together.

Al Baggett made the talk of welcome for the Canyon boys and promised the Amarillo Mavericks that they could go swimming the next time they came to Canyon. The pool had been closed because of doctors orders, and will not be open for about a week.

There were several solos, duets, etc., by the Mavericks from Amarillo and Canyon. Such songs as "Old Faithful," and "Home on the Range" were sung.

Mr. Warwick of Canyon led the boys in several songs.

Possibly the highlight on the program was the talk made by Joe Boy Hill. Joe had Nika, his sled dog, with him and made a very interesting talk to the boys on the dogs used on the trip to Little America at the South Pole.

Joe then answered questions fired at him by the inquisitive Mavericks. Some of these questions were: Did the dust blow at the South Pole? How long did your hair grow? What did you eat down there? How cold was it? Did it get as cold as it does in Amarillo? What did the dog houses look like? How much does Nika weigh. Are the dogs any larger than her as a rule? How much can a sled dog pull. Did it rain at the South Pole? The answers in order were:

The dust did not blow. Joe's hair grew down to his shoulders and he had two hair cuts while in Little America. They ate mostly dehydrated food. Admiral Byrd recorded 82 degrees below zero at Advance Base. A little colder than in Amarillo. The dog houses looked like trunks. Nika weighs about 65 pounds. Most of the dogs weigh about 100 pounds, and are larger than Nika. Sled dogs pull around 150 pounds. It rained once at the South Pole in two years. The boys gave Joe a big hand when he concluded his talk.

Pat Noser wants to thank Dut Wanser for coming down with the boys and he enjoyed his talk with him.

Pat also wants to thank all the Amarillo Mavericks for coming down and helping us in our first Sunday afternoon meeting. Those Amarillo boys can really make "Ham and Eggs" ring. Some of the Maverick's parents said "Ham and Eggs" were heard plum to town.

Bill Allen and Red Holston, the boys in charge of the Canyon Mavericks, were on hand to help in the meeting. Red and Bill are both fine boys and really know their stuff when it comes to swimming, boxing, wrestling, and all the rest of the sports.

Robert Matlock, chief of police of the Canyon Club, looked for an hour for Jimmie Taylor, chief of police of the Amarillo Club. Robert said he wanted to buff Jimmie in the nose just to let him know who was the toughest cop. However, for some reason, Jimmie was not to be found. Those boys are about evenly matched and its usually a toss-up as to which one will win.

After the services were over, we all went out on the lawn and had our pictures taken by Mr. Travis Shaw, Business Manager of West Texas State Teachers College. I was right down in front and I'll bet my mug can be seen from Canyon to Amarillo.

We wish to thank Mr. Galloway, the piano player, and the leaders of the Amarillo Mavericks for coming down. It was a real pleasure and we want you all to come again.

Red Holston was just in and he said for all the Amarillo Mavericks to be sure and come down and go swimming next week sometime. Red is a National Red Cross Examiner and will not let any of you boys down, so come soon.

Army Corps Prepares for Strato Assault

The military aspect of this tiny town of tents, erected in a natural bowl in South Dakota's Black Hills, seems to match its purpose: preparation for an impending invasion of the stratosphere. From an adjoining field, within the next few weeks, the second hop into the upper air, sponsored by the National Geographic Society and the army air corps, will begin. In this scene, trees fringing rugged slopes overlook "Main Street" of the army camp, a veritable beehive of activity.

Pari-Mutuels Lose Fight in New York

Legislators in twenty-five States that have adopted the legalized form of betting known as pari-mutuels still are wondering how and why New York State passed up a million or more in revenue when the Senate turned down mutuels and left the field to the book-makers.

The Literary Digest reports that the better element on the turf in New York and elsewhere is happy at the outcome.

Last Year's "Take" From Pari-Mutuels	From
California	$339,213
Washington	149,060
Florida	625,291
Ohio	135,796
Maryland	863,269
New Hampshire	556,629
Rhode Island	812,414
Kentucky	223,903
Michigan	580,000
Texas	553,265
Illinois	545,670

Mutuels a Menace

Mutuels in New York, these people point out, would soon end thoroughbred racing all over the United States. They admit that betting in the pari-mutuel machines has not ended racing in other states, but they say that they see the end coming: New York, minus mutuels and the all consuming "take," will soon become the backlog of the sport, they say.

The system in New York is different. There the book-makers bet that the public is wrong, which it probably is, but in theory at least the public is not betting against its own money. The $100,000 which was sent into the machines at Miami, and of which only $90,000 came back, may bring the public a million in New York.

In other words, the public at least has a chance to beat the book-maker, and often does; it never can win at a mutuel track. At mutuel tracks a few of the lucky ones win, of course, just as in New York, but the drain of the "take" is on the community and, in the end, even the lucky ones, or their bank-rolls must be eaten up by the machine.

Cronin's Early Season Showing Indicates That Clark Griffith Got the Best of That $250,000 Trade With the Red Sox

BY PHILIP MARTIN

DID Tom Yawkey, Boston Red Sox proprietor, come out second best in the deal that brought Joe Cronin to Beantown for a little matter of $250,000 cash and Shortstop Lyn Lary?

Party of the second part in this trade, as you already know, was Clark Griffith, Senator boss, known to baseball hagglers as "Dave Harum" because of his willingness to trade a last year's rain check for a $5 bill.

It may be a bit early to answer definitely in the affirmative, but Joe's early season record seems to lend credence to this suspicion. Several games the Crimson Hose should have won with ease were dropped because of miscues on the part of the former Nat manager. Dahlgren, Boston's fancy fielding first sacker, has stretched his anatomy numerous times to save Manager Joe's low tosses.

Of course Cronin always has committed his share of bobbles, due to his habit of aiming for ground hit balls ignored by even the most optimistic of other shortstops, but this spring he has shown an alarming tendency to fumble chances right down his alley.

THE San Francisco's right wrist, broken in a game against Boston last season, failed to heal properly, some say, although Joe himself and Dr. Edward Larkin, Washington club physician, who attended the injury, take exception to this belief.

However, the fact that Cronin jammed the injured wrist in an exhibition tilt during spring training, necessitating his languishing on the bench for several days, didn't help matters any. Continuation of the ex-Nat's inefficiency streak would just about kill the Red Sox's flag chances, although it would enhance Mr. Griffith's lustrous reputation as a cagey dealer in baseball flesh.

ALTHOUGH the Phillies released Bert Shotton a year ago from his managerial duties, he still draws a salary from that club. . . . his contract has this year to run. . . . Kentucky Derbies of 1892, 1899, and 1905 had only three entries. . . . After seven straight losses, the Detroit Tigers tossed that "lucky" ball, used for infield practice all last season, into the Detroit river.

neglected owing to the great distance from Austin, and the large number of parks which were commanding the attention of the State Parks Board. Senator Small drew the bill, and caused its passage during the closing days of the legislature, but stated after the adjournment of the session that if a better arrangement could be worked out for handling the affairs of the Park, he would not object to the veto of the bill.

A committee of local citizens has conferred several times with Amarillo citizens regarding the bill, and Friday it was decided that Wilbur C. Hawk should represent this section Tuesday in a meeting of Governor Allred and D. E. Colp, chairman of the Texas Parks Board, where final decision was to be made. The plan for the local advisory committee was worked out as the most practical method of handling the Palo Duro, with all concession money being directed by the local committee and placed in charge of the chairman, who was placed under bond to the state. Governor Allred directed the drawing up of an agreement by the Attorney General covering the points recommended by Panhandle citizens through Mr. Hawk. The Governor communicated with the National Park Service at Washington before the final approval was made at Austin.

The local committee is directed by this agreement to collect all fees and rents at the Park, to cooperate with the superintendent, and make necessary reports and recommendations to the State Parks Board as it deems necessary for the proper development of the Park.

In the meanwhile, a study of the New York park plan is being made, with nine regional committees in charge of various parks, the chairman of the regional committees constituting the State Parks Board. This plan will be recommended to the Governor and the legislature by the State Planning Board when the special session is called by Governor Allred in October.

The new committee will meet at the Palo Duro Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock to take up the question of concessions for the summer, and to discuss with Supt. Louis Bryan the plan for operations during the period.

Syringe Is Their Cafeteria

A medicine dropper proved a synthetic mother to these two waifs—a sparrow and a monkey. The sparrow, which made its nest in a Seattle, Wash., schoolroom, to which it returns regularly after its outdoor flights, is shown being fed by a schoolboy. A syringe, and the patient care of an Atlantic City zoo proprietor, saved the life of the baby monkey, when its mother fell ill.
